OBAMA'S COSBY COVER-UP EXPOSED!

WHAT PRESIDENT KNEW about sex attacks

PRESIDENT Barack Obama covered up for his sex fiend pal Bill Cosby, charge insiders.

But the cunning Commander-in-Chief was forced into his shocking smack-down of the twisted comedian - all but publicly calling the 78-year-old TV legend a rapist - after a furious fight with First Lady Michelle, say sources.

"She threw a fit in the White House Oval Office during a discussion over Cosby's confession that he gave drugs to women before sex," says a White House insider.

"Michelle blasted Barack for covering up for his cheating friend. She really twisted the knife saying he was no better, flirting with every gorgeous star he invited to his late night White House parties and raging, 'You're both cheating dogs. You are a disgrace!' "

The source says Obama was well aware of talk about Cosby taking sexual advantage of scores of women.

"But by ignoring the issue, the President didn't have to risk upsetting his pal, who's been a staunch supporter and campaigned for him," the insider says.

"Now, after Cosby's admission and the very public campaign to take away his Medal of Freedom, Barack is

CLARK GABLE RAPED LORETTA YOUNG!

In one of Hollywood's biggest cover-ups, lust-crazed screen king Clark Gable raped his leading lady, Loretta Young, and she ended up giving birth to his child, a daughter named Judy.

The explosive revelation comes from the famed actress' son, Chris Lewis, and his wife, Linda, who say Young revealed the sex attack in 1998, two years before she died at age 87.

But Young asked the family to keep silent so Judy, who passed away at age 78 in 2011, would never know she was a child of rape.

The aging screen beauty admitted the shameful sexual violation while watching a news program about "date rape," a crime that wasn't recognized in her youth.

Linda says after she explained the meaning of the term, Young stunned her with the shocking confession: "That's what happened between me and Clark."

In 1935, Gable, 32, who was married to Maria Langham, the second of his five wives, was filming Call of the Wild with 22-year-old Young.

The smitten hunk flirted openly with the young beauty on the set triggering talk of a scandalous affair.

Later, as they returned by night train to Hollywood

Linda and Chris Lewis

Clark Gable's daughter Judy (circle) grew into a lovely woman from the wilds of Washington State, "at some point Gable entered Young's compartment," Lewis told celebrity author Anne Helen Petersen.

"Young never spoke of the specifics of what occurred to anyone...until decades later" when she revealed the rape.

But weeks after the incident, the humiliated actress discovered she was pregnant.

"One of Young's sisters had walked by Loretta's room and heard her weeping," writes Peterson. "'How could this be happening?' she asked. 'It was just one time.'"

Since Loretta was a devout Catholic, an abortion was out of the question. With the help of her family, pregnant Young was tucked away in a Venice Beach, Calif., cottage.

Shortly after the actress gave birth to Judy in November 1935, she "adopted" the girl. Gable never acknowledged the child and Judy didn't learn he was her father until she was 23, shortly after his death.

But the family never told Judy that Gable had raped her mom, who later had two sons with second hubby Tom Lewis.

Linda says she finally decided to reveal the truth because date rape seems to be a daily occurrence, "and the men just keep getting away with it."

caught in the middle of a shocking cover-up scandal."

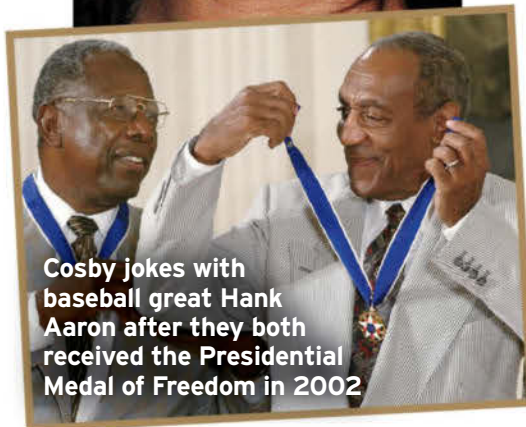

The President stunned advisors during a press conference when he all but openly accused Cosby of rape.

Referring to the funnyman's bombshell confession in a recently unsealed 2005 deposition, Obama, 53, said, "If you give a woman, or a man for that matter, without his or her knowledge, a drug, and then have sex with that person without consent, that's rape."

But he stopped short of revoking Cosby's medal, ignoring demands from victims' rights advocates and prominent politicians - including Democratic Senators Kirsten Gillibrand of New York and Claire McCaskill of Missouri.

"Obama says there is no mechanism or precedent to do it," the source says. "But that's not true, as President he can order it taken away."

Cosby was awarded America's highest civilian honor by President George W. Bush in 2002 - even after it had been reported TV's favorite dad allegedly accosted a 20-year-old cast member on The Cosby

Cosby jokes with baseball great Hank Aaron after they both received the Presidential Medal of Freedom in 2002

Show, Lachele Covington.

In 1997, Cosby was accused of cheating on his wife, Camille, with striking brunette Shawn Thompson Upshaw, who claimed he fathered her daughter, Autumn. A paternity test proved he wasn't the baby-daddy, but he admitted Shawn was his secret mistress and he paid her $100,000 in hush money!

Obama greets buddy Bill at the Kennedy Center in Washington, D.C.

Even more shockingly, it was reported in 2000 that Lachele told cops Cosby assaulted her after he lured her to his Manhattan mansion under the guise of discussing her career.

"He fondled her breasts... then he tried to put his hands down her pants and exposed himself," said a police official. He was finally sued by another victim, former Temple University women's basketball director Andrea Constand, who claimed he'd drugged and sexually assaulted her.

The star's shocking confession was made during a deposition for Constand's suit, which was sealed when Cosby settled the case out of court. But a federal judge recently released the documents - in light of the other women's explosive charges.

Now critics say Cosby didn't deserve to EVER get the prestigious medal. Attorney Gloria Allred, who represents several of the women who claim to be Cosby victims, insists Obama needs to take action against the actor.

Says the legal eagle, the Medal of Freedom "was bestowed by a President and that must mean it can be revoked by a President."

AS his defenders turn on him and the probability of serious prison time grows, accused serial rapist Bill Cosby is dangerously suicidal, friends fear.

"Bill is a broken man," says a source. "Everything he's worked for and built all his life is being torn down. He's beyond stressed."

Even his buddy, "View" host Whoopi Goldberg, who sparked outrage by taking his side saying he was "innocent until proven guilty" and "he has not been proven a rapist," has turned on him.

Now, she says, "The information that's out there kind of points to guilt."

And his former Cosby Show son-in-law, Joseph C. Phillips, who played Lt. Martin Kendall, filed a long post on his Web site titled Of Course Bill Cosby is Guilty.

In the post, Phillips says he asked a woman who'd been mentored by "America's favorite TV dad," about Cosby and she became tear-

As his legacy lies in tatters, reports say the U.S. government is weighing charges against Cosby — even though the Emmy-winning actor didn’t admit to committing a criminal act in the newly unsealed sworn statement.

Former Brooklyn, N.Y., prosecutor Javier Solano says Cosby’s testimony is “the proverbial smoking gun. If I were him right now, I’d be looking for a good criminal defense attorney.”

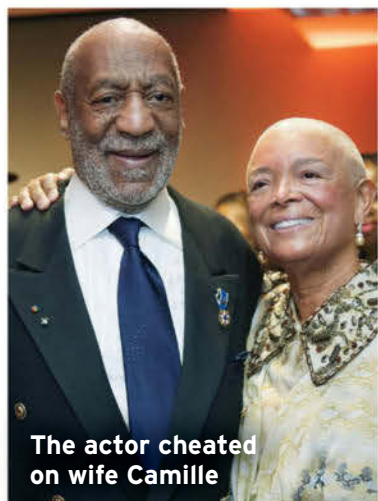

Cosby’s legal team has repeatedly denied the accusations, but since November, at least 40 women have accused him of sexually attacking them after slipping them drugs.

“Bill’s humiliated and his world has been ripped apart!” says an insider.

“We’re afraid he could be suicidal and his very life is hanging in the balance.”

PAUL NEWMAN FAMILY MILLION $ FOOD FIGHT!

SEVEN years after his tragic death, Paul Newman's family is caught in a bitter feud even as his 85-year-old widow, Joanne Woodward, faces her sad last days with Alzheimer's disease.

The Cool Hand Luke hunk's oldest daughter, filmmaker Susan Newman, 62, is waging war against her three half-sisters and her dead dad's business partner, Robert Forrester, over the family fortune.

Fumes Susan, "I feel like the Newman family has been taken hostage by Bob Forrester," CEO of the Newman's Own food company and charitable foundation.

Nasty in-fighting

At the heart of the nasty in-fighting between Newman's first family and his second is the $175 million will Newman left after dying from lung cancer at age 83 in 2008. The document doled out fortunes to the surviving children he

After divorcing Witte in 1957, Newman married Oscar-winning actress Woodward a year later. Together they had daughters Nell, 56, Melissa, 53, and Clea, 50.

Susan insists all Paul's daughters were supposed to serve on the Newman's Own board - but "we had the rug pulled out from under us."

Says a family friend, "Her comments have ruffled the feathers of her half-sisters. Bob was a close friend of Paul, and it was his wish to leave Bob in charge when he died. So to them, there's no room for second-guessing how he runs things."

But Newman's will was rewritten several times - and his first wife's kids worry they're being shafted.

And now, as Woodward nears the end of her battle with Alzheimer's, Susan and her sister "fear that when Joanne passes, the bulk of the estate is going to be left to HER daughters," says the friend.

"Yes, this is partly a fight over money, but it's also a fight for Susan and her sister to be recognized as part of Paul Newman's legacy, too."

SCIENTOLOGY PLOTING TO CONVERT HARRY!

Prince Harry has the right stuff as a trained gunship pilot

TOM CRUISE is at the center of a plot to recruit Prince Harry into Scientology, sources say.

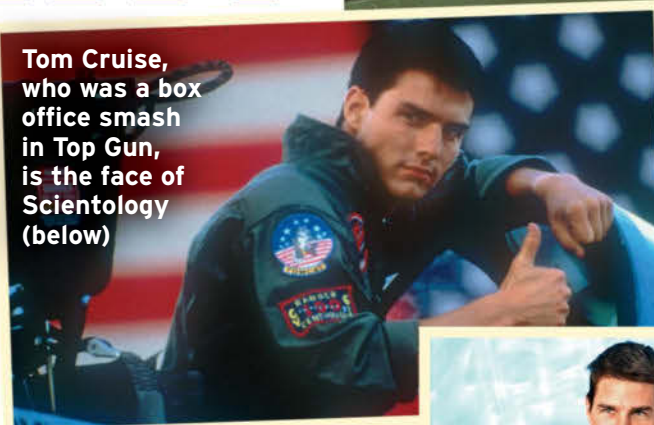

Cruise, 53, is offering the red-headed royal a part in his Top Gun movie sequel as bait to hook him into the controversial cult, insiders fear.

A Hollywood casting agent says Cruise, who has been a leading Scientologist for more than 25 years, has challenged his team to persuade the macho 30-year-old Prince he can be a Hollywood star.

Hollywood dreams

"Harry got the news that Cruise wants to bring him on board Top Gun 2 while he was working in Africa on a project to save rhinos from extinction," says a friend.

Tom Cruise, who was a box office smash in Top Gun, is the face of Scientology (below)

"He thinks he'd be perfect for it. Harry's a military gunship pilot and showed his skills in combat fighting the Taliban on a four-month mission in Afghanistan."

But the Prince's Hollywood dreams are sure to be shot down by his 89-year-old grandmother, Queen Elizabeth, who is head of the Christian Church of England. Cruise and Scientologists believe modern man was shaped by an intergalactic battle between good guys and an evil dictator.

"The cult's mind-bending methods of recruiting members and squeezing money from the rich and famous won't sit well with her," says another insider, who adds that "getting Harry to join would be a massive PR coup. Plus, it would give Scientology a foot in the door to infiltrate the Royal Family."

Sources say Scientology's leaders tried to land a royal almost 30 years ago when Princess Diana famously danced at a White House state dinner with Saturday Night Fever idol John Travolta, a follower of the controversial religion.

"When Diana and Prince Charles split, I'm told the organization's leaders hoped she'd spend more time in America where they could offer her relief from the scandal," says the source.

"But their hopes were shattered when she died in a Paris car wreck 18 years ago."

Sources say church bosses now believe Harry could be key to unlocking Palace doors.

"That would allow them to even reach Prince William and Kate," says GLOBE's source. "They want Scientology's tentacles spreading through the Royal Family."

MELISSA MOORE was just 5 years old when she got a clue there was something terribly wrong with her father - he tortured and killed five stray kittens as she watched in horror!

Duct tape

A decade later, her dad, long-distance hauler Keith Jespersion, took Melissa and her two younger siblings for a ride in his truck and some duct tape rolled out of the sleeping compartment. She thought that was weird, too.

But things got even stranger when her old man said over breakfast he wanted to tell her something - but couldn't because she'd go to the police! Instead, he confessed, "I'm not what you think I am."

A year later, she finally discovered what he was talking about.

Jespersion was busted for being the notorious Happy Face Serial Killer, who cops believe brutally raped and slaughtered at least eight women in the 1990s.

Melissa admits having trouble handling the horror.

"There isn't a book out there called What Do You Do

When Your Find Out Your Dad's a Serial Killer," she says. "There's nothing out there that tells you what to do."

She also feared she may have inherited Jespersion's twisted psyche and damaged DNA - and passed them on to HER own children.

Although Melissa knew she "wasn't capable of killing anybody," she worried her "father's DNA could be evil" and she was "carrying Jesperson's killing spree began in January 1990, shortly after he divorced Melissa's mom, five years, the fiend left a trail of mutilated bodies through six states. He was dubbed the Happy Face Killer after sending taunting letters to media outlets and authorities, signing them

Over the next

He was finally tripped up in March 1995 when he strangled his girlfriend, Julie Ann Winningham.

Melissa recalls her dad honking his horn while passing Oregon State Penitentiary, saying "Someday I'm gonna be there - but not yet!"

His prediction came true. The 60-year-old monster is now serving multiple life sentences in that very institution.

Meanwhile, Melissa, 36, has also felt "emotionally" imprisoned by her father's crimes.

But the married mom of two has found relief by writing her memoir, Shattered Silence, and helping other people who have serial killers for relatives.

Amazingly, she found closure when her father admitted he was so bloodthirsty he'd even considered killing HER!

"Understanding that," she says, "allowed me to say good-bye to him."

DONALD'S THE

IT'S official! Republican presidential candidate Donald Trump is the $10 BILLION man.

And as he surges to the top of the polls, the defiant tycoon is vowing to let nothing, and no one, stand in his way of winning the White House in 2016 – not even a chilling death threat by fugitive Mexican drug lord, Joaquin “El Chapo” Guzman.

Bloodthirsty Guzman, who escaped from a maximum security prison in his homeland on July 11, has ordered Trump to stop taking potshots at him and Mexico – or else!

Fighting for the future

But the 69-year-old real estate mogul boldly told a pal, “I’m not afraid. I’m fighting for much more than myself. I’m fighting for the future of our country, which is being overrun by criminals.”

El Chapo targeted Trump in an expletive-laced attack on Twitter, threatening in Spanish to make him “swallow his words.”

The chilling warning came after Trump blasted the drug kingpin’s daring escape from Altiplano jail through a sophisticated tunnel.

“Mexico’s biggest drug lord escapes from jail. Unbelievable corruption and U.S.A. is paying the price. I told you so!” Trump wrote online.

And going toe-to-toe with Guzman, Trump said, he’d “Kick his ass!”

Still, the straight-talking candidate is taking the convicted murderer’s death

“Donald is no fool,” notes a source. “He’ll take precautions with his safety – but he will never back down.”

Ironically, Guzman’s threats have helped propel Trump to the front of the GOP pack running for the presidency.

“People can see America needs a strong leader who will protect this country, fight for

WANTED

The crime kingpin ducks into an escape chute at maximum-security Altiplano prison (above), climbed down a ladder and rode a motorcycle through the tunnel to freedom

His income last year was a whopping $362 million, NOT including dividends, interest, capital gains, rents and royalties.

Says the source close to Trump, who employs thousands of legal immigrants and minorities, "More and more American citizens of all races, religions, creed and color are seeing how the liberal media has distorted Trump's statement. And El Chapo's escape just proves he's right."

Demanding an apology

Now, defiant Donald is demanding an apology from his critics. "El Chapo and the Mexican drug cartels use the border unimpeded like it was a vacuum cleaner sucking drugs and death into the U.S....likewise billions of dollars get brought into Mexico through the border," he blasted. "We get the killers, drugs and crime...they get the money!"

"When will people, and the media, start to apologize to me for my statement, 'Mexico is sending...' which turned out to be true?"

And, bolstered by polls that show he's surpassed Jeb Bush as the Republican front-runner, Trump vows to take the White House.

"I am going to win – and I am going to win the Latino vote," he predicts. "I am the only one who can make America great again."

its citizens and not be intimidated," a source close to The Donald tells GLOBE.

Trump believes that the evil drug lord's improbable prison break confirms his charge that the Mexican government is corrupt and incompetent.

While announcing his campaign for President, Trump sparked outrage by proclaiming, "When Mexico sends its people, they're not sending their best...They're bringing drugs. They're bringing crime. They're rapists. And some, I assume, are good people."

But he refused to bow to the backlash, even though it cost him millions as business partners including Univision, NBC, NASCAR and Macy's cut ties with him in protest. "I don't need them!" he fumed.

And according to his personal presidential financial disclosure, he most certainly doesn't.

BRAIN CRISIS CRIPPLES JONI, 71

LEGENDARY folk singer Joni Mitchell can't walk and still needs 24-hour care at her Los Angeles home - but she's regained her speech and pals are praying for a miraculous full recovery, sources say.

So for the time being, the troubled star is living under the wing of her friend Leslie Morris, who makes all major decisions on her behalf.

Mitchell, 71, was rushed to hospital in March after suffering an aneurysm and being discovered unconscious in her home.

"She is resting comfortably in her own home and she's getting better each day," says a statement on her Web site. "A full recovery is expected."

DR. EVIL CAGED IN

TWISTED medicine man Farid Fata got 45 years behind bars for forcing 553 unsuspecting patients to have agonizing – and unneeded – cancer treatments so he could rake in a staggering $17.6 million!

At his July 10 sentencing in a Detroit, Mich. courthouse, patients and their families ripped into the 50-year-old oncologist, who pleaded guilty to health care fraud, money laundering and conspiracy to pay and receive kickbacks.

Bogus treatments

“I hate you. You disgust me. You are a monster. You are evil,” raged Laura Stedtefeld, who branded the quack cruel and greedy. “You poisoned, tortured and murdered my dad.”

Sue Lane, whose husband Ronnie was a patient and died last year, told the court, the demented doctor bled her family dry with his bogus treatments.

“My husband is gone. Our money is gone. I had to file bankruptcy twice,” Lane said, confronting the fiend. “I lost my best friend. He went blind. He could not hear or speak. Thanks for making my life a living hell.”

Yet incredibly, after slamming Fata for committing a “horrific series of criminal acts,” Judge Paul Borman only sentenced the beast to 45 years.

The term is about a quarter of the 175 years the prosecutors said the crook deserved as “the most egregious fraudster in the history of this country.”

Lawmen described Fata as even worse than notorious Ponzi swindler Bernie Madoff because he “...wreaked damage on not only his victims’ bank

Many of the patients he prescribed painful chemotherapy and other treatments for didn't even have cancer.

Others, who had curable forms of the disease, were forced to endure super-aggressive and endless treatments that lowered immunity and exposed

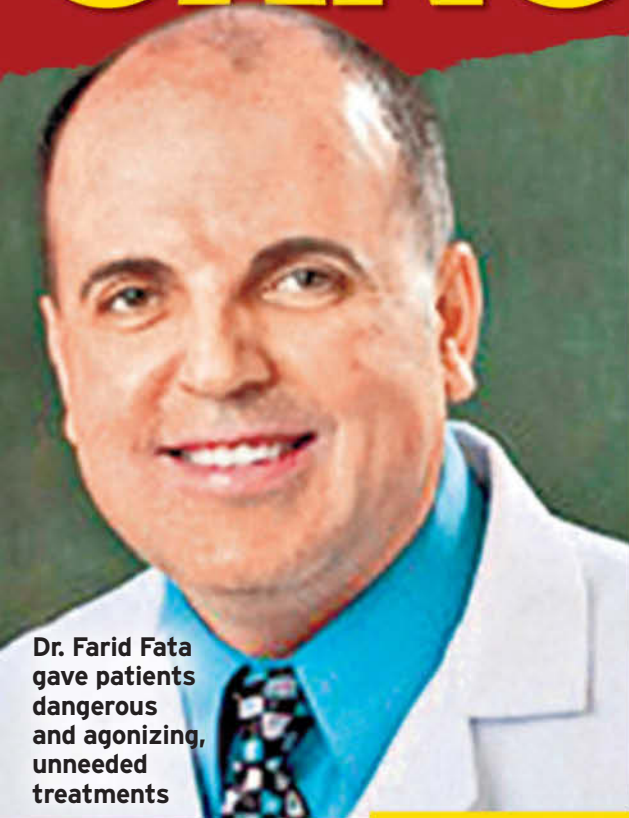

The cold-hearted schemer also prescribed unnecessary and grueling treatments for terminally ill patients with zero hope that chemo or radiation would prolong their lives.

Fata duped testicular cancer victim Chris Sneary into receivdoctor." Now suffering from liver and heart issues after his treatments, Sneary blasted Fata as "a cowardly b*****" with no regard for human life.

"He is a manipulative, devious, greedy, cold-hearted evil person."

Other heartbreaking cases of excessive or unnecessary treatment include a man who lost both legs, another who lost all but two of his teeth, and a woman who bought a gun and tried to blow her brains out to end her suffering.

Yet, even after victims described the horror he put them through, Fata brazenly asked the judge for mercy.

"I cannot bring back the past," he pleaded. "I stand before you so ashamed of my actions. I permitted sin to enter me because of power and greed."

While the judge gave Fata more than the 25 years his lawyers asked for, the doctor's sentence amounted to a slap on the wrist – at least in his victims' eyes.

Former patient Monica Flagg was disgusted. After Fata had diagnosed her with cancer, she suffered a broken leg from a fall and the new doctor found she did not have the disease.

Blasting the sentence, Flagg declared, "What about all the grave markers out there that all the victims' families have to look at?"

CAMPERS SLAUGHTERED TRYING TO ESCAPE RAIN!

INNOCENT VICTIMS IN WRONG PLACE AT WRONG TIME

VICTIMS

Vicki Moore was critically injured while her son Timber Brown (center) and his half-brother Jon Brown were killed

SAVAGE home invaders unleashed carnage and death on two young families who were staying at the house to avoid camping in tents during a torrential downpour, say cops.

Two of the six houseguests, 12-year-old Timber Brown and his half-brother Jon Brown, 26, were stabbed to death. And Timber's brave mom Vicki Moore, 31, was left fighting for her life after trying to save her boy from a knife-wielding fiend.

Jon, Timber and Moore, along with her friend, Nicole Skinner and her two daughters, were innocent victims.

After leaving their homes in northern Michigan, the families planned to camp out and watch the June 14 NASCAR races at Michigan International Speedway in rustic Brooklyn.

But a rainstorm convinced them to abandon their plans to sleep in tents. Instead, they crashed at the nearby home of Jeffrey Porter, who knew one of Skinner's friends. Cops say Porter was bad news and a reputed dope dealer.

Porter's reputation convinced recycling worker Joseph Hall, 25, and Jesse Spurlock, 33, to break into the house in the wee hours of June 13 in search of money and drugs, police say.

At a court hearing, Michigan State Police Detective Sgt. James Bundshuh said Hall – carrying a knife with an eight-inch blade – broke into the house through a sliding glass door. Spurlock stayed outside to serve as a lookout, according to cops.

Police say Hall killed Jon and Timber, and he left Moore critically injured with 14 stab wounds. Skinner was also stabbed, but her injuries were minor. And Porter was knifed three times while throwing Hall through a window.

The accused thugs were caught five days after the murders when Hall sought treatment for cuts he got during the attacks, cops say. In court, Hall admitted he'd "snapped."

Both Hall and Spurlock are facing murder and other charges, and they're being held without bond.

Says a source about the victims, "They ended up at the wrong place at the wrong time... simply to get out of the rain."

IT'S time for Michael Douglas to shut the hell up!

First, he grossed us out by openly speculating his bout with throat cancer could have been the result of performing oral sex on women who had a sexually transmitted disease. Now, he's out there openly bragging about the size of his manhood. Really?

It's just a little Too Much Information for me and the rest of the civilized world.

The guy is the son of an acting legend and a winner of two Oscars, three Golden Globes and an Emmy - and this is what he's most proud of?

It all started when a reporter approached Kirk's 70-year-old son and said, "Your father had his cleft chin. Omar Sharif had the gap in his teeth..."

Mikey shot back with a smile, "I have a big..."

Douglas actually completed the sentence with a vulgar term men tend to use. I'm not including it in this column, but I'm sure you can guess what he said.

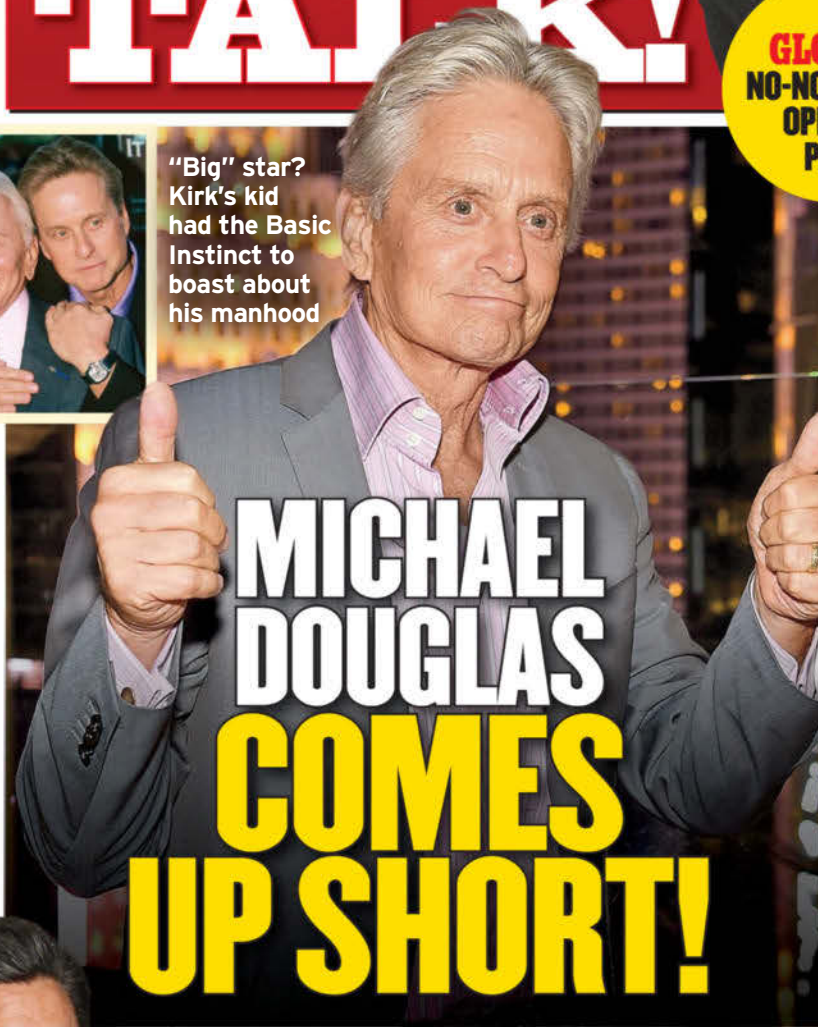

I don't know about you, but it's been my experience that men who brag about their size are usually trying to cover up for their shortcomings. I'm guessing that's the case here with Mikey.

So for now, I'd like to suggest that Mikey might want to change his name to Wee Willie Douglas and just move on.

And really, when all is said and done, there are only two things that are truly BIG about him: His mouth and his ego!

"Big" star? Kirk's kid had the Basic Instinct to boast about his manhood

AND ONE MORE THING...Hey John Stamos! Thanks for listening.

In my July 6 Straight Talk I told how the former yogurt pitchman and wannabe Beach Boy was busted

I had one suggestion for Stamos: Get into rehab!

And guess what? That's exactly where he is. Good for you Johnny! Now do us all one more favor and stay off TV!

That's all for this week, friends. Please let me know what you think!

DID IT

THEY didn't call Frank Sinatra the Chairman of the Board for nothing. Ol' Blue Eyes lived life to the fullest - and he always did it HIS way!

Gone now for 17 years, Sinatra would have celebrated his 100th birthday in 2015.

During his six-decade show business career, the leader of the Rat Pack performed on more than 1,400 recordings and set records with 31 gold albums, nine platinum, three double platinum and one triple platinum collection of tunes.

Sinatra also appeared in more than 60 movies, taking home the 1954 Best Supporting Actor Oscar for the classic film From Here to Eternity. He was given Lifetime Achievement Awards by The Screen Actors Guild, the NAACP and The Recording Academy, as well as the Presidential Medal of Freedom, the Congressional Gold Medal and the Kennedy Center Honor.

Francis Albert Sinatra, born December 12, 1915, died from a heart attack at age 82 on May 14, 1998, but he'll never be forgotten. Here's a look at his life in pictures.

KIRSTIE'S KILLER

KIRSTIE ALLEY's dangerous lifestyle has cut years off her life and she could be dead in two years, fear experts.

The 64-year-old former Fat Actress star is locked in a killer cycle of obesity, yo-yo dieting, binge eating and unhealthy habits that could dramatically shorten her life, experts say.

"I've added up the stressors in her life and unless she adds more balance and gets counseling for her emotional eating, Kirstie may only live to 66," says Dr. Patrick Wanis, who developed the Life and Death Calculator.

Kirstie Alley was a sultry knockout when she co-starred on Cheers with Ted Danson

By comparison, the average American woman has a life expectancy of 80 years! But the former Cheers beauty suffers from what Wanis calls "robbing stressors" that can strip years off your life span.

Kirstie continues to battle deadly obesity and has a history of wild weight swings – bouncing between 250 pounds and 140 – which can cut five years from her life, the expert says.

And North Carolina weight loss specialist Dr. Aaron Tabor tells GLOBE, "The yo-yo dieting over the years may have damaged her heart and other organs."

After the 5-foot-8 actress was runner-up on Dancing with the Stars with partner Maksim Chmerkovskiy in 2011, she claimed to have lost 100 pounds. But Kirstie packed much of the weight back on.

Then, beginning in April 2014, she lost 50 pounds in eight months on the Jenny Craig program. By January 2015, the actress looked youthful and svelte.

2009

...but she really lived up to her Fat Actress rep six years later

But now she appears heavy, bloated and unhealthy again.

"Kirstie hasn't resolved the underlying negative emotions that cause her to overeat," Wanis speculates.

Kirstie also has an addictive personality, admitting to a three-year cocaine habit that sent her to rehab in the early 1980s, say experts who note a severe drug addiction can cut five years off your life.

In addition, the actress has been divorced twice – and has been pretty much single since she split from fiancé James Wilder in 2000. Not having a healthy, romantic relationship can rob you of three years, according to Wanis' calculator.

Plus, she suffered a terrible

Meanwhile, a spokesman for Kirstie says experts, who have not treated the star, have been "reporting she was going to die for the last 30 years because of yo-yo dieting and she's still here." The rep adds that "at some point" the experts "will be right, hopefully when she's 98."

And Wanis says Kirstie CAN prolong her life, noting "she can reverse the damage by eating healthfully, exercising and meditating to calm her stress."

tragedy when her adopted daughter Lillie's fiance died – and losing a loved one can cost you three years, says Wanis.

And her career has stalled.

"She's not able to live out her passion for acting and comedy," says Wanis. "When you can't express your passion, you can feel you have little to live for."

Losing your purpose in life can shave three years from your life span, he notes.

And now that her children, True, 22, and Lillie, 21, are leaving the nest, Kirstie will be alone, which can take four years from her life, especially if she refuses to age gracefully, the expert says.

But Kirstie is financially stable, has pets and deep religious beliefs that help her cope with the negativity of her stressful life. Each of these factors earns three points on the positive side of the Life and Death Calculator ledger.

So, by subtracting 23 points due to stressors from an average lifespan of 80 years and adding nine for the positive points, Kirstie's adjusted life span appears to be 66.

Medical news YOU can use!

MIRACULOUS new medications can beat the agony and joint damage of crippling rheumatoid arthritis.

Called “biologics,” new drugs like Enbrel, Humira and Orencia target the chemical that triggers joint inflammation and disease.

“The standard medication is methotrexate but we have newer, more effective medicines today that don’t have the side effects of the old drugs,” says Dr. Kirkwood Johnston, a rheumatologist at the Kelsey-Seybold Clinic in Texas.

An autoimmune disorder, rheumatoid arthritis strikes the lining of the joints in the hands and feet causing pain and eventually joint deformity.

More than 1.3 million Americans, mostly over age 40, suffer symptoms like tender swollen joints, morning stiffness, hard bumps of tissue under the skin and fatigue, fever and weight loss.

The disease runs in families and more often strikes women.

Dr. Johnston tells GLOBE seeking treatment as soon as you start feeling joint pain gets the best results in managing RA.

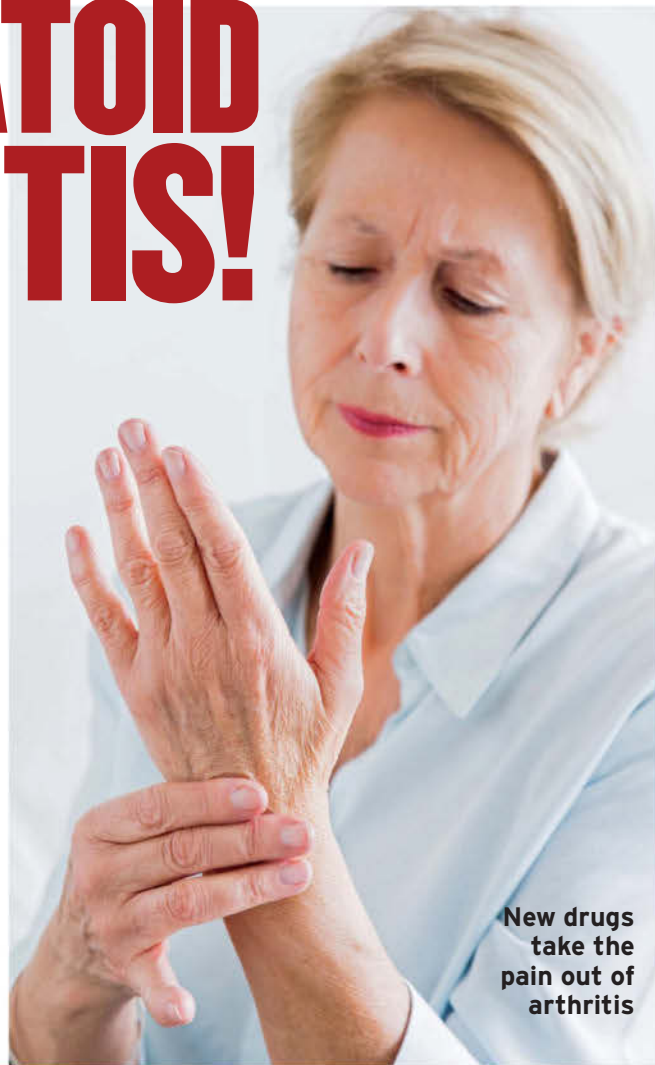

Experts say lifestyle changes, including swearing off nicotine, can also make a dramatic difference if the disease is detected early.

Using your joints is also key to controlling RA.

“Exercise is crucial,” says Dr. Gabe Mirkin, a sports medicine physician.

“You need to keep the joints moving to keep them healthy and pain-free.”

Eggs in salads are good for you

+ NEXT time you make a salad, be sure to include a boiled egg or two. Not only will it enrich the taste, but it will also help you absorb healthy carotenoids from the raw veggies - and those nutrients reduce harmful inflammation and oxidation. “Eating a salad with a variety of colorful vegetables provides several unique types of carotenoids,” says nutrition expert Wayne Campbell. “The lipid contained in whole eggs enhances absorption of them.”

Women have better memories

+ IF your husband forgets to pick up a carton of milk from the market, you can blame it on his gender. Researchers at The Ashton University gave 100 men and women tasks to perform over 15-minute and one-hour time frames and found that the ladies were better at remembering to do them. Lead researcher Liana Palermo believes women are more attuned to planning and fulfilling tasks because they’re used to it from running a household.

Heart failure occurs when the heart can't get enough oxygen to the body

HEART FAILURE WARNINGS YOU NEED TO KNOW

HEART failure is different from a heart attack and strikes six million Americans - yet many don't know the shocking warning signs.

Heart failure happens when the organ can't pump enough blood to meet the body's needs.

A heart attack occurs when the muscle doesn't get enough oxygen due to blood flow problems, which leads to damage.

Heart failure symptoms include shortness of breath, fatigue and weakness, fluid retention, especially in the lower extremities, abnormal heart rhythm, palpitation and dizziness, and weight gain of three pounds or more a day, says Florida cardiologist Dr. Mike Fenster.

"Although there is no cure for heart failure, it can be managed," says Fenster, author of The Fallacy of the Calorie.

"It's important to monitor your weight and fluid levels and work with your doctor to find the right combinations of medications."

Patients with the condition should avoid processed and refined foods that have hidden sources of sodium, he warns.

"Eat lots of fresh fruits and vegetables which contain potassium to maintain a proper sodium-to-potassium ratio," he says.

HYPNOSIS CURES X-MEN SIREN'S MENTAL DISORDER

X-MEN beauty Olivia Munn has a secret weapon - hypnosis!

The 35-year-old actress reveals she got hypnotized to fight obsessive compulsive disorder and trichotillomania, a bizarre mental affliction that caused her to tear out her own eyelashes.

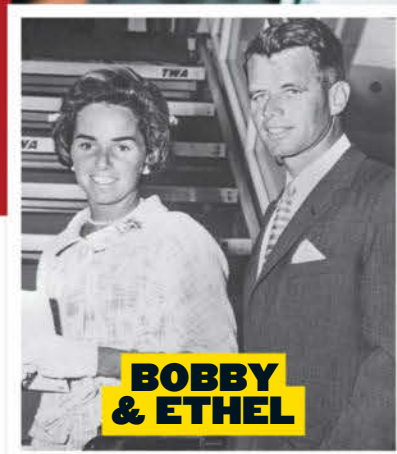

Her therapist also gave Munn a posthypnotic suggestion to start exercising because he said it would help alleviate her anxiety and depression.

"That was on a Friday, and by Monday I was working out every day at 6 a.m.," she says. "Now, I feel so much stronger."

That should all help with her role as Psylocke, a mutant with extraordinary mental powers, in the upcoming X-Men: Apocalypse.

"Psylocke has no problem battling and killing," says Munn, who dates pro football quarterback Aaron Rogers. "I love how strong she is."

RFK & MONROE DID IT IN FRONT OF HIS WIFE!

BOBBY & ETHEL

EVERYONE knows sex goddess Marilyn Monroe scandalously sang a seductively breathy Happy Birthday Mr. President to secret love John F. Kennedy in front of a stunned audience at New York's Madison Square Garden on May 19, 1962.

But the REAL action came later when she threw herself at his kid brother, Bobby.

Brazenly grinding

According to witnesses, the blonde bombshell was brazenly grinding up against JFK's U.S. Attorney General at the private after-party - right in front of RFK's wife, Ethel. But "Marilyn didn't care!"

BRAZEN SEXUAL ADDICTION EXPOSED IN NEW BOOK

"Oh, she and Bobby just carried on," says another guest in a shocking new book, Vendetta: Bobby Kennedy Versus Jimmy Hoffa by author James Neff.

"She literally pinned him against the wall...it was a sight to see. Ethel got so horrified. When she got him home, she said, 'That's the most disgusting thing I've ever seen.'"

But brazen Bobby just shrugged it off. Neff says that wasn't the first time the

According to GLOBE's insider, Bobby had gone there to tell the actress that it was over between her and JFK, but began his own affair with

HEARD GETS BITTEN FOR DOG SMUGGLING

JOHNNY DEPP's actress wife Amber Heard is wanted in Australia for dog smuggling!

Aussie officials have charged the 29-year-old stunner with illegally sneaking her two pups into the country and violating quarantine laws. If convicted, she faces up to 10 years in the slammer and $75,000 in fines.

Depp, 52, Heard and her pet terriers, Boo and Pistol, slipped past customs when they arrived by private jet in Australia where he was shooting a new Pirates of the Caribbean flick.

But Aussie law requires incoming pets to be quarantined for at least 10 days and owners to get a permit.

"If we start letting movie stars come into our nation (with pets), then why don't we just break the laws for everybody," explains government bigwig Barnaby Joyce.

Now, Amber says she and Johnny will avoid Oz in future trips.

GEORGE CLOONEY's lawyer wife Amal is pressuring the hunk to quit making movies and concentrate on becoming a major player in international affairs, say pals.

And Gorgeous George is all ears, insiders say, now that his latest film, Tomorrowland, turned out to be a box office turkey.

"Amal thinks George can make a difference in world affairs," a friend tells GLOBE. "Besides that, she doesn't like being apart from her man when he's off making movies with his buddies and sexy leading ladies."

George, 54, and Lebanese-born human rights attorney Amal, 37, tied the knot in Venice, Italy, last September.

But the stress of being married to one of the world's most desired actors has taken a toll on the lanky beauty, who has dropped some 25 pounds since the wedding.

Jet-setting

"They have a busy jet-setting lifestyle, and George fears it's running his poor wife ragged," notes another friend. "He figures if he did more humanitarian projects with Amal as a couple, they can really settle into this marriage."

Along with his work in hit films like Gravity and The Descendants, Clooney has long been an activist for peace and human rights on a global basis.

DIONNE WARWICK TERRIFIED OF SHOWERS!

Dionne hugs her late cousin Whitney

ICONIC singer Dionne Warwick, the cousin of tragic Whitney Houston who died in a bathtub in 2012, admits she has one terrible fear.

"Dying in the shower," says the 74-year-old Heartbreaker legend. "I nearly checked out earlier this year when I passed out in the shower.

"My blood-sugar levels had dropped, and I fell over and damaged my ankle. But it could have been a lot worse. I was in the hospital for six weeks while the doctors tried to save my foot."

Maybe she should have seen it coming - Warwick is a great believer in psychic powers.

She says that after a clairvoyant accurately predicted she'd win Grammys for Deja Vu and I'll Never Love This Way Again, "I got involved with the Psychic Friends Network."

PRAY FOR BUSH, 91

Political patriarch fading fast after breaking his neck

AFTER breaking a bone in his neck, former President George H.W. Bush is fading fast and needs your prayers.

Bush, 91, the oldest living U.S. President, was rushed to the Maine Medical Center in Portland from his Kennebunkport summer home following a July 15 fall, in which he fractured a neck vertebra.

Going under the knife with anesthesia would be risky for a man his age, so doctors planned to let his injury heal on its own without surgery, say sources.

His condition was listed as "stable," but the Bush clan feared this could finally be the end, says a family friend.

"They wanted to spend as much time as possible with him, letting him know how much they love him and will cherish his memory," the source says.

George H.W. Bush was confined to a wheelchair (left) before his latest health crisis. Now his wife, Barbara (circle), and family fear he's slipping away

"The best anyone can do is pray."

One medical expert noted it would be difficult for the aged 41st President to recover because older folks "heal more slowly."

Bush has Parkinson's disease and battled breathing problems that could lead to complications. He'd been using a motorized scooter or wheelchair to get around.

His family rallied to his side – hoping he'd live long enough to see his son, Jeb, the former governor of Florida, win his current bid for the White House.

Just a week before the fall, he and wife Barbara, 90, briefly hosted about 300 well-heeled donors for Jeb Bush's campaign on the front lawn of the family compound.

Meanwhile, granddaughter Jenna sent a message via social media thanking people for their prayers.

CAITLYN BENT ARMS TO SCORE TV AWARD

OUTRAGEOUS publicity hound Caitlyn Jenner shamefully strong-armed her way into winning ESPN's Arthur Ashe Award for Courage!

An insider charges a rep for the Olympic hero, once known as Bruce, offered ESPN publicity plugs on Jenner's upcoming reality series, I am Cait in exchange for the ESPY trophy.

"The executives at ESPN loved the idea, and immediately began making sure it got done," the insider reveals. "Caitlyn's journey to the award will also be featured on I am Cait."

The wrangling included ABC's blockbuster 20/20 interview with Jenner, 65, and Diane Sawyer since Disney owns ABC and ESPN.

At one point, Bruce/Caitlyn threatened to "pull the plug" on the Sawyer interview if she "didn't get the ESPY," claims the source.

LAMAS' WIFE GIVES BIRTH TO THEIR OWN GRANDKID!

TV heartthrob Lorenzo Lamas and his fifth wife, Shawna, agreed not to have children together – but that didn't stop her from giving birth to his grandson!

Shawna, 29, served as a surrogate for Lorenzo's daughter, Shayne, and her author hubby, Nik Richie, and on July 4 she delivered a boy named Lyon.

"Shawna's not just my stepmother, she's like a soul sister," gushes Shayne, also 29. "She's an angel that blessed my whole family."

Infertile

Shayne, who won Season 12 of The Bachelor, suffered a uterine rupture while pregnant in September 2014. She lost that baby and was rendered infertile.

"Shayne was really broken, but she didn't understand her options," Shawna explains. "That's my world."

While Shayne admitted the whole plan was "weird," she decided to go ahead with it. And her 57-year-old dad, Lorenzo – a father of six – was all for it.

"My wife is going to give birth to a child that we are not going to bring home," said Lorenzo, former star of Falcon Crest. "But it's my grandchild, so we are going to have a great relationship with him."

OMAR SHARIF DIED BITTER AND BROKE!

Son Tarek (inset) joins mourners at his father's funeral in Cairo, Egypt, where coffin bearers (right) carried his casket at the Mushir Tantawi mosque

Ravaged by ALZHEIMER'S
and GAMBLING addiction

LEGENDARY heartthrob Omar Sharif died a bitter recluse after spending decades squandering his fortune in casinos around the world!

That's the secret tragedy behind the death of the Dr. Zhivago hunk, who was battling mind-robbing Alzheimer's disease when he suffered a fatal heart attack at age 83, in Cairo, Egypt.

Had it all

An industry insider tells GLOBE that toward the end, Sharif, who died July 10, deeply regretted his gambling addiction – that once cost him $1.5 MILLION in one evening playing roulette!

"Omar had it all after making Lawrence of Arabia, Dr. Zhivago and Funny Girl in the 1960s," the source says. "But his career tanked because he lost all his money gambling and had to take roles in bad movies just to survive."

Sharif, who was a world-class expert at the card game bridge, acknowledged gambling had ruined his life.

"I was a lonely man living out of suitcases in hotels and when you arrive in a new place and don't know anyone, the only place you can go if you are a well-known person to have dinner alone is a casino," he said.

And once his meal was complete, Sharif confessed he would pass his time at games of chance. His luck was bad.

Always broke, he took any role that came along, including playing the revolutionary Che Guevara in the 1969 stinker Che! – which bombed spectacularly.

"It got to the stage where my own grandchildren used to make fun of my films," said the actor, who had a son, Tarek, with wife Faten Hamama, whom he divorced in 1974.

But even ridicule couldn't stop his self-destructive habit.

After losing $1.5 million in a single night, he had to sell his home in Paris and lived in hotels. He wound up "all alone and completely broke," he said. "I don't own anything at all apart from a few clothes."

Say the showbiz insider, "Omar could have been one of the Hollywood greats – but he didn't have the willpower to quit betting against all odds.

"That ruined everything in the end, and left Omar bitter and regretful."

FALLON FIGHTS TO SAVE FINGER AFTER FREAK FALL

TONIGHT Show host Jimmy Fallon has spilled the beans about a horrifying amputation nightmare that put him in a hospital intensive care unit for 10 days!

The 40-year-old funnyman's finger was literally skinned off the bone when his wedding ring got caught on a kitchen counter-top after he slipped on a rug!

"I tripped and fell and I caught my fall, so I'm getting up and my finger is sideways. So I go, 'Oh my God, did I just break my finger?'" says the Saturday Night Live alumnus. "It looks like a cheap horror movie where you see a broken finger."

Fallon says he was fortunate doctors were able to save the mangled mess during a six-hour micro-surgery that involved implanting a vein from his foot into his hand.

"Usually they're just gonna cut your finger off, so I was going to lose my finger," says Fallon. But, so far, he's going to be able to keep the digit.

Top medical experts say the injury, known as a ring avulsion, is extremely serious.

New York City-based cosmetic surgeon Dr. Matthew Schulman tells GLOBE, "This is a very serious injury in which blood vessels, nerves and tendons are torn."

"He's extremely lucky to have his finger saved but he is not out of the woods yet."

"He will likely need months of physical therapy to get motion back in his finger joints and he may suffer permanent nerve injury."

DUNHAM'S LESBIAN ENCOUNTER WITH DIANE

LENA DUNHAM must look like a lesbian to Diane Keaton!

At a Christmas party thrown by Friends star Jennifer Aniston, Dunham - the creator and star of the HBO blockbuster Girls - says Keaton first mistook her for the wife of producer Judd Apatow.

But when Apatow told Keaton the tattooed funnily lady at his side was just a friend, Dunham says the 69-year-old Annie Hall star looked her in the eye and brazenly asked, "Do you even like men? Are you interested in men?"

In truth, Dunham, 29, DOES go for guys and is dating rocker Jack Antonoff. Dunham was amused by the encounter.

"It was the best thing!" says Dunham. "Diane Keaton was just straight up, like, 'There is a lesbian and I am Diane Keaton, so I don't need to even beat around the proverbial bush'" and let it all hang out.

HAIR REMOVAL

no!
PRO

“Even though my hair is naturally quite light, I have been conscious of the soft, light hair that grows around the side of my face, upper lip and chin. When I was younger, it didn't bother me but, with age, the problem had become more noticeable.

I tried all sorts of solutions. I found creams messy and their use resulted in one unfortunate incident in which I actually burned my top lip!

I tried razors but I just couldn't bear shaving like a man, and I cut myself on more than one occasion.

As my desperation grew, I decided to book a course of laser treatments. Up to that point, this was possibly the most effective treatment, although it was time consuming, extremely inconvenient, painful, and at around $1,000 for 8 separate treatments, it was very expensive.

Then I noticed an article about the no!no! PRO. The company was offering a risk-free, 60-day trial and, seeing that they had sold over 5 million of these cute little gadgets, I thought they must be doing something right! Confident in the knowledge that my purchase was protected, I decided to give no!no! a try.

The first thing that struck me when it arrived was how small and compact it was. It's cordless, too, so it fits easily into my handbag.

And no!no! PRO was so easy to use. A gentle glide over the skin gave me instant results – and not just on my face. I've used it all over my body: legs, arms, bikini line, even armpit hair – without the mess that you get with creams.

Just a smooth, steady glide is all it takes instantly.

There's none of the irritation that you get with razors either. Just a beautifully soft, smooth finish,

It was the type of result I'd expect to get from a first-class salon, but I did it myself in the comfort and privacy of my own home. I've recommended no!no! PRO to so many friends, and it seems to work for everyone, regardless of skin or hair color. A friend told me she used it with great success on her husband's back instead of waxing. He loved the fact that it was pain-free even more than the end result!

I don't think I'll ever try razors, lasers or waxing again.”

KATEY SAGAL'S A WITCHY WOMAN ACTRESS

KATEY SAGAL is set to star in a new Game of Thrones-style series from her producer hubby Kurt Sutter, who created the wildly popular motorbike gang drama Sons of Anarchy, in which she played Gemma.

Sagal, 61 — who shot to fame as Peg Bundy on Married... With Children — takes the role of a devious witch named Annora in FX's new fall show, The Bastard Executioner, which also features True Blood's Stephen Moyer.

Set in Britain in the 1300s, the series revolves around a war-ravaged knight who picks up his sword again when the King of England is confronted with a new reign of terror.

Matthew Rhys (left) guest stars and True Blood's Stephen Moyer is also featured Matthew Rhys will guest star as the leader of a band of Welsh rebels — but his role won't impact filming of his hit spy drama The Americans, also on FX.

Sutter will also have a supporting role as Annora's companion, The Dark Mute, while Australian newcomer Lee Jones plays the title role of the executioner, Wilkin Brattle, who is emotionally deep and "spiritually tortured."

And Charlie Hunnam, who played Sagal's son Jackson "Jax" Teller on FX's Anarchy

is also lobbying for a part in the new series.

"He better put me on it," Hunnam says. "He's going to be in big trouble if he doesn't invite me."

TV FACT

Desperate Housewives beauty Nicollette Sheridan and Baywatch's Yasmine Bleeth both auditioned to play Grace on Will & Grace, only to lose out to Debra Messing.

COWELL TO REPLACE STERN?

SHOCK jock Howard Stern is quitting America's Got Talent at the end of the current 10th season, and the smart money's on American Idol's original Mr. Nasty, Simon Cowell, filling his seat.

Stern, who replaced Piers Morgan in 2012 and has been on the show for four seasons, hinted on his SiriusXM radio show that he could be taking on a different TV show, with insiders predicting he's got a talk show in his sights.

The 61-year-old king of all media also revealed that Cowell, creator and executive producer of "Talent," could well be joining the hit show - hosted by Nick Cannon - as a judge next year.

MINDY'S PROJECT A GO

MINDY KALING is thrilled that The Mindy Project was picked up for a fourth season by Hulu shortly after it was canceled by FOX.

The streaming service has ordered 26 new episodes to air later this year and has bought the rerun rights to the first three seasons.

Although the comedy co-starring Chris Messina struggled in the ratings, the sitcom is likely

Chris Messina and Mindy Kaling will return to attract Hulu viewers.

Hulu, which recently acquired the streaming rights to every Seinfeld episode, has been on a mission this year to ramp up its original programming.

The network has just ordered the Stephen King drama 11/22/63 starring James Franco, as well as the Amy Poehler-produced comedy Difficult People, featuring Julie Klausner and Billy Eichner.

ALL RISE FOR JUDGE HATCHETT

ALL rise for Judge Hatchett.

JUDGE Glenda Hatchett is returning to the TV judicial bench seven years after hanging up her gavel.

The 64-year-old jurist starred on the syndicated series, Judge Hatchett, for eight seasons (2000 to 2009) until it was adjourned - but now she'll be back in session this fall in the The Verdict with Judge Hatchett.

"I am highly confident that we will deliver another first-class television court series," says Hatchett, who's done stints on the game shows Hollywood Squares and Pyramid.

The divorced mother-of-two, who graduated from Emory University law school, received two daytime Emmy nominations for Outstanding Legal Program in 2008 and 2009.

Hatchett was Georgia's first African-American chief presiding judge when appointed to the Fulton County Juvenile Court in 1990.

MARY POPPINS DRINKER OR MR. HYDE STINKER?

See what kind of boozer YOU are!

THE NUTTY PROFESSOR

MR. HYDE

MARY POPPINS

ERNEST HEMINGWAY

WHAT kind of drinker are you? University of Missouri-Columbia psychologists conducted a study that classifies drinkers in four categories - the Hemingway, the Mary Poppins, the Nutty Professor and the Mr. Hyde - and now you can rate yourself.

Most people, according to the researchers, fall into the Hemingway group, named after famed writer Ernest Hemingway who claimed he could down "any amount of whiskey without getting drunk."

Hemingways remain conscientious and rational even after imbibing a few cocktails, the scientists found.

The next largest group, Mr. Hydes, are the opposite.

Named after Dr. Jekyll's evil alter-ego, portrayed by Fredric March in the 1931 classic horror movie, these folks are often called "bad drunks" because they grow hostile and disagreeable after knocking back a few.

They "also incur harm from their drinking, for example experiencing a memory blackout or being arrested for drunken behavior," say the researchers.

Then you have the Mary Poppins group, inspired by the fictional British nanny who used a spoonful of sugar to help the medicine go down. These elbow-benders tend to be agreeable folks when sober, and booze only makes them nicer.

They are essentially "sweet, responsible drinkers who experience fewer alcohol-related problems," note the researchers.

That leaves the Nutty Professors, who get their name because drinking makes them more outgoing and confident, like the movie character originated by Jerry Lewis and reprised by fat-suit wearing Eddie Murphy.

Introverted when sober, Nutty Professors become more extroverted and less responsible when tipsy.

In case you're wondering about the purpose of this study, the researchers say, "These results hold promise for developing...motivational interventions for problem drinkers."

Right. We'll drink to that!

CANCER PATIENT BROKAW WANTS SWIFT DEATH

WITH the sword of terminal cancer hanging over his head, gutsy TV newsman Tom Brokaw reveals he'd rather go fast than linger at death's door.

"What I don't want to do is be hooked up to tubes," says the former NBC News anchor. "When the time comes, I hope it comes pretty swiftly so it doesn't put my family through a lot of agony."

Two years ago, Brokaw, 75, was diagnosed with deadly multiple myeloma, a blood cancer that ravages bone marrow. He was told he probably had about five years to live.

"I'm in remission," explains Brokaw. "The disease is incurable but it's highly treatable."

He says his wife of 53 years, former beauty queen Meredith, has been his "tough cop" in keeping him on his chemotherapy regimen, which involves taking 15 pills a day.

Incredibly, the newsman still serves as a special correspondent for NBC and says, "I live a pretty vital lifestyle."

GEORGE MICHAEL COCAINE SCANDAL!

ROCKER George Michael has been trying to beat his demons in a $300,000-a-month Swiss rehab center, reveals a relative who claims the singer is still drinking after a year in the place!

Jackie Georgiou, wife of Michael's cousin Andros, told a British newspaper how relatives feared the former Wham! star was headed for an early grave before checking into the pricy Kusunacht Practice.

"He was smoking crack," she says. "He got to the point where he would be shaking, saying, 'I need it.'

"There were parties where he was taking drugs and collapsing and being picked up off the floor. It's crack, it's marijuana, it's drink, it's coke...I'm petrified he will die."

And when she and other family members went to visit Michael on his 52nd birthday last month, she says, "I know he was still drinking after a year in rehab, which is bad."

But Michael fired back in a statement, calling his relative's claims "highly inaccurate stories."

He added via Twitter, "Do not believe this rubbish in the papers today by someone I don't know anymore and haven't seen for nearly 18 years."

And his spokesman insists, "George has not just entered rehab but is spending time in Europe...enjoying an extended break."

THE VIEW IS FINISHED!

TV GABFEST OUT OF STEAM AND MUST END NOW!

ENOUGH, already! Kill The View! That's what bored-sick former fans of the long-running ABC gabfest are howling as producers desperately scramble to save the daytime show with yet another round of co-hosts.

"This show needs to be taken off life support!" a Hollywood insider tells GLOBE. "The way people come and go makes your head spin.

"The program is dead – it just doesn't know it yet!"

Adds an Internet commentator, "The desperate revolving door of hosts has become absurd. Someone, please, just pull the trigger on this show."

Incredibly, The View has had 15 hosts over 18 seasons, including show creator and executive producer Barbara Walters, who retired last summer.

Now, Rosie Perez, who only came onboard in September, is leaving and so is conservative personality Nicole Wallace, 43, who is "hurt" by ABC's refusal to offer her a full-time contract for next season. But Sherri Shepherd, a co-host for seven seasons before getting the boot last year, is expected to return as a "contributor" along with former Full House star Candace Cameron Bure, 39, actress Molly Sims, 42, and What Not to Wear fashion maven Stacy London, 46.

Bigwigs also hired comedian Michelle Collins to join longtime moderator Whoopi Goldberg, 59, and newbie Raven-Symone, 29, in a desperate push to reverse a 16 percent ratings slide.

Walters wanted to bring on Monica Lewinsky, 41, the former White House intern and lover of President Bill Clinton. But the idea was nixed.

The show's current season was marked by chaos. Loud-mouth Rosie O'Donnell, 53, returned in September then bailed just five months later in February after clashes with Whoopi.

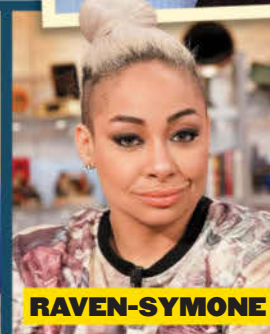

The show also replaced longtime producer Bill Geddie, who had handpicked Perez and O'Donnell, with former MSN-BC president Bill Wolff.

Despite the shake-up, The View is SO bad Jenny McCarthy, 42, was asked to return after being dumped last summer and told bigwigs: no dice!

Fans agree the sinking stinker has got to go. "It only gets worse and the saga continues," says an Internet poster. "All of these host changes are indicative of running scared."

Adds another, "Johnny Carson could rise from the dead and join the panel and it still wouldn't matter." Stick a fork in it, The View is done!

Thousands of Plastic Surgeons Could Go Out of Business by 2017!

“When Dr. Oz featured phytoceramides on his TV show, he didn’t realize he might be responsible for putting thousands of doctors out of business.”

By Steph Weller

NEW YORK: Plastic surgeons are angry. And for good reason. The U.S. launch of the new “face-lift pill”, Dermex-P, might have them scrambling for new careers. Their “bread and butter” business; making older faces look young again, could go away tomorrow.

In a time when 50 is the new 30, the pressure to look younger is greater than ever. Perhaps this is why Americans spent over $12-billion on anti-aging products and procedures — just last year. A number that had doctors and cosmetic manufacturers doing a jig in 2014 — but “not for long!”

Doctor Oz Exposes Hollywood’s “Age-Curing” Miracle to the World!

When TV’s Doctor Oz featured phytoceramides (the key ingredient in Dermex-P) on his show, he didn’t realize the damage he was doing. Everything that Doctor Oz said about the ingredient was true. “This is no ‘old wives tale’. It’s a scientific fact! The clinical tests are indisputable,” said one industry insider. And that’s the problem. It works too well! And that’s exactly what has estheticians and the cosmetic industry so worried. That would mean products and services like facials, Botox® injections and other means of making yourself look younger could soon be obsolete.

According to Doctor Oz, a recent clinical study conducted at Osaka City University in Japan proved the effects of phytoceramides on 6 men and 27 women. Each had wrinkles, age lines and sagging skin conditions that made them look

Real Stories, Real Results

“My husband left me for a younger woman last year and he took my self-esteem with him,” says 50 year old Lydia S. of Tampa, Fl. “When I read an article about Dermex-P and how its main ingredient was clinically proven to restore a youthful appearance, I thought, “Why not?”. Lydia goes on to say with a smile, “What they say is true, living well is the best revenge. I have my confidence back and am dating men half my age. My friends and family cannot believe the difference!”

54 year old Joan from Phoenix, Arizona says “After using Dermex-P for four weeks, I looked in the mirror and felt like a 30 year old with 24 years of experience!”

What Would You Choose...

years older than they actually were. Typically, their skin was dry, inelastic, wrinkled and old-looking.

The study concluded when administered daily, the phytoceramides used in Dermex-P would moisturize and hydrate old skin to identically mimic the skin of people in their early 20’s. Phytoceramides reverse wrinkles through a process called elastase suppression and collagen production. Simply put, Dermex-P plumps away wrinkles using your body’s own collagen. And keeps your skin moist and smooth much like a humidifier keeps cigars fresh.

Not a Cream, Cover-up or Surgical Procedure

Dermex-P isn’t a drug, a cosmetic, or a messy cream. Dermex-P is something completely different. There are no needles involved – you don’t even need a prescription for it.

“9-out-of-10 users report; people accuse them of having surgery” says researcher, Joel Carson. Dermex-P actually youthens every cell in your body! Wrinkles fade, fine lines vanish and your skin is flooded with new moisture – from the inside out.

Doctors say Dermex-P is so effective, that in most cases, there’s no reason for anyone to go “under the knife”. It just works better! And because you take phytoceramides orally (through the mouth) instead of topically (on the skin), not only will the skin on your face look young – virtually every organ in your body gets younger too.

“I’ve seen some people start taking them and look like a different person just a month later!”

Says supplement manufacturer, Daniel Dembinski; “Doctor Oz was right! Phytoceramides are remarkable! I’ve seen some people start taking them and look like a different person just a month later. I know it sounds crazy but you can’t argue with facts. The pill is a better, more effective method than anything I’ve seen.”

Plastic surgeons aren’t the only ones furious about the U.S. release of Dermex-P. Hollywood execs are nervous about the launch too.

Celebrities make their fortunes on their looks. It’s what separates them from us. And today, the younger you look, the more acting jobs you get. Surgery and estheticians give celebs the edge over us mortal folk. But if everyone looked younger, Hollywood execs fear their stars may lose their appeal.

“It hydrates old skin to identically mimic the skin of people in their early 20’s”

Until recently, unless your name was Angelina Jolie; or you were married to Donald Trump, you had no idea what phytoceramides were. But now with the public release of Dermex-P; phytoceramides are available to all-- and shockingly affordable too.

Aging is Inevitable, Wrinkles are Not!

According to top plastic surgeons, Dr. Shirley Madhere and Dr. Leif Rogers, phytoceramides work underneath your skin to reverse aging. It’s instantly absorbed into the bloodstream, and is carried directly to the inner and outermost layers of your skin - restoring it on a cellular level. It just makes a lot more sense than other methods.

“This will undoubtedly have a tremendous impact on the future of cosmetic surgery. It has to.

Dermex-P is drastically cheaper in comparison. And it gives you shockingly similar results,” says one successful Beverly Hill’s surgeon. “The medical community is up in arms because the average cost of a facelift is about ten thousand dollars; and the recovery time is painful and can take as much as 2-3 weeks! We will soon start to see the trend steering away from medical procedures to a safer, more inexpensive solution like Dermex-P”

The distributor of Dermex-P is offering a 100% Risk-FREE 30-day trial supply to anyone who asks. They say, it’s the best way for people to see for themselves how well it works. Try it for 30 days – if your wrinkles don’t disappear from your entire face and neck, return the bottle, even if totally empty. You’ll be completely refunded – no questions asked. But no one’s promising this offer will stay open forever. Considering the demand for Dermex-P, the FREE trial supply could prove too costly for the company to keep up with. That’s why it’s important to call now before the FREE trial is no longer available.

We will also send you a FREE GIFT just for trying Dermex-P and of course you are backed by our unconditional 30 Day Money Back Guarantee on all of our products. It’s that easy! Call 1-800-717-7348 now before this offer is closed forever.
